Over 90% of presenters have been making electronic copies available. This enables quicker, cheaper distribution of the presentations.

Instructions to presenters

- provide soft copy of presentation in Microsoft Word, Excel, or Powerpoint for the Mac or PC, on a floppy, Zip disk, or via MIME-compliant e-mail
- If you use any other software for creating your presentation, convert either to Adobe Portable Document Format (PDF) using Adobe Acrobat, or to Postscript, making sure to embed any special fonts in the Postscript file. In most environments, it is possible to “print to file” ; if a Postscript printer has been chosen, this file will contain the Postscript output
- adhere to guidelines for the cover page

Instructions to presenters (contd)

- Name your presentation file according to the following convention:
Organization.first_initial_lastname.ppt
e.g., ses.phariharan.ppt
- If your platform/environment will not permit long names, and you must use the DOS 8.3 format adapt the convention described above:
pharihar.ppt
- Check to make sure that your title slide has all the information to enable someone interested to contact you. Look at the first slide in this set.
